

New York City College of Technology Division of Continuing Education

INFORMATION

718-552-1170

REGISTRATION

25 Chapel Street (at Jay Street) 4th Floor , Downtown Brooklyn

House and Home Courses & Toolkits — SPRING 2008

Course: THE ART OF HOME DÉCOR

HHT 070

Thurs 6:30-8:30 pm March 6 -27

4 sessions 8 hours $125

In this course, you will learn that good planning leads to good decorating. Create a unique space to reflect your own personality through color, space, layout, lighting, fabrics, window treatments and furnishings.

Toolkits: • GREENING YOUR HOME

Wondering what it takes to make your drafty home energy efficient? Want to turn your home Green? Looking for color-balanced fluorescent lights for your kitchen, bath or hallway? From non-toxic paint to sustainably harvested wood products to split-zone HVAC and low flow showerheads, we'll explore the options for smart, energy conscious home building and renovation. Come with a question and go home with a green home checklist of small and large ways to save money and the environment. The instructor, Ellen Honigstock Architect PC, RA, LEED AP, is the Green Residential Building Advocate for the US Green Building Council NYC chapter.

Green Home Furnishings and Healthy Home Decor

Saturday 12 to 3 pm February 16

3 hours – $40

Low impact Living Tips That Will Save You Money

Thursday 6 to 9 pm April 17

3 hours – $40

• BASIC HOME REPAIRS FOR THE OLDER HOME

Tuesday 6 to 9 pm March 11

3 hours – $40

Older Homes need tender loving care and a variety of home repair skills, many of which the average homeowner can master. We'll show you how to fix a toilet, install a missing molding, repair a plaster wall, bleed a radiator and replace a light fixture. And we'll tell you when you need to call a professional, what to look for in a contractor, and how to ask the right questions.

• INTERIOR DESIGN BASICS

Wednesday 6-9 pm February 20

3 hours – $40

From Harlem to Ditmas Park and from Bay Ridge to the Upper West Side, New York City is full of fine old homes. In this workshop and lecture class, you'll explore the classic house styles that give New York its unique character, learn to replace original details like moldings and plasterwork, and discover how to choose colors that complement your home's good bones.

SPRING SPRUCE UP

Saturday, 9 am to 12 noon, April 12

FREE 3-hour workshops ($20 Registration Required)

When it comes to houses, what's on the outside counts. From pots to plots to window boxes, a colorful display of annuals makes your house a pleasure to come home to. A plant-covered deck adds a lovely green living room for your family to enjoy from spring to fall. A fresh coat of paint on your entrance door and window frames gives new life to a tired exterior. Spring is a great time to perk up your home and add some living color.

